
The World Economic Forum would like to thank FedEx and USAID for their invaluable support of this Report.

FedEx continues to support the World Economic Forum's annual Global Competitiveness Report, providing reliable global distribution services.

FedEx is committed to advancing free trade and driving global commerce and economic development. We support the World Economic Forum's dedication to improving the state of the world by engaging leaders in regulatory, industry, and economic cooperation.

Recently, FedEx looked deeper into factors impacting the global economy, commissioning a second study by SRI International titled "The Dynamic Force of Access: An Update of the Access Index." The study provides a qualitative and quantitative assessment of the impact of how people, businesses, and nations "access" ideas, goods, technology, and markets. The information gleaned from this study is complementary to the insights in the Forum's Global Competitiveness Report. As FedEx continues to explore Access, we look forward to better understanding how to harness the momentum of the global economy to continue to create positive change around the world.

FedEx Corp. (NYSE: FDX) provides customers and businesses worldwide with a broad portfolio of transportation, e-commerce, and business services. With annual revenues of US$38 billion, the company offers integrated business applications through operating companies competing collectively and managed collaboratively, under the respected FedEx brand. Consistently ranked among the world's most admired and trusted employers, FedEx inspires its more than 290,000 employees and contractors to remain "absolutely, positively" focused on safety, the highest ethical and professional standards, and the needs of their customers and communities.

For more information, visit www.news.fedex.com.

USAID is an independent federal government agency that receives overall foreign policy guidance from the Secretary of State.

The USAID mission is to create a more secure, democratic, and prosperous world for the benefit of the American people and the international community.

Our work supports long-term and equitable economic growth and advances US foreign policy objectives by supporting economic growth, agriculture, and trade; global health; and democracy, conflict prevention, and humanitarian assistance.

We provide assistance in four regions of the world: Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia and the Near East, Latin America and the Caribbean, and Europe and Eurasia.

With headquarters in Washington, DC, USAID's strength is its field offices around the world.

We work in close partnership with private voluntary organizations, indigenous organizations, universities, American businesses, international agencies, other governments, and other US government agencies. USAID has working relationships with more than 3,500 American companies and over 300 US-based private voluntary organizations.

For further information about USAID and its programs, visit www.usaid.gov.